Habits of the Household

Pastors David & Lisa Homrich

Daily habits are powerful ways to shape the heart. You want to parent with purpose--but do you know how to start? In life there can be tension between how you long to parent and what your daily life actually looks like. In this class you will receive the tools you need to create structure--from mealtimes to bedtimes--that free you to parent toddlers, kids, and teens with purpose. As you open your eyes to the spirituality of parenting, you will learn to see small moments as big opportunities for spiritual formation. As you create liberating rhythms around your everyday routines, you will find your family has a greater sense of peace and purpose as your home becomes a place where, above all, you learn how to love.

Influencing Culture through Biblical Citizenship Larry & Ginny Schuelke

Throughout our history, Christians have played a vital role in the establishment and preservation of the religious and civil liberty we have today. Being “salt & light” requires knowledge of the culture we are attempting to preserve, and influence as we fulfill the Great Commission to “make disciples of all nations.” We have a great Christian Heritage, but much of our history has been forgotten, or never learned at all. We will use the entertaining, educational, and inspiring “Biblical Citizenship in Modern America” video series to explore our history, and the Biblical concepts our forefathers used to produce the Declaration of Independence and our Constitution. We will also consider the duties and responsibilities that our founders expected from us, in order to sustain the liberties we have—for us and for the next generation.

Parables of the Kingdom Pastor Dean Grabill

Though often brief (and at times not understood), the “parable” was a frequent teaching method used by rabbis in the time of Jesus.

As Jesus declared, “Repent, for the Kingdom of God has come near,” and also performed many miracles, multitudes gathered from far and near to hear His teaching. The main focus of His teaching was the Kingdom of God and His main teaching tool was the parable. You are invited to join in an exciting exploration of this unique part of Jesus’ ministry. Join us as we explore the nature and purpose of parables in the time and culture of Jesus and learn how to interpret and apply these parables to our lives today.
